ARRIVAL OF CARRANZA'S MESSENGER

Raises Problem For Envoys In Conference at Niagara Falls

NEW REPRESENTATION

Will Not Disturb the Course of Proceedings as Statement Made by Mediators—Huerta Delegates Will Abide by Decision.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Niagara Falls, May 30.—The South American mediators, are confronted today with the problem of whether or not they will permit constitutionalist representatives to enter the conference here. The issue has been raised through the sending of a note from General Carranza by a special messenger, Juan F. Urquidí, in which the constitutionalist chief expresses surprise that the mediators proceeded with the negotiations without replying to his telegram asking what points would be discussed in the mediation.

The Huerta delegates know only unofficially of the presence here of Mr. Urquidí, but they expected today to be formally advised of the nature of the communication he brought. On the subject of constitutionalist representations the Huerta delegates have decided among themselves that they will abide by any decision the mediators may make.

The mediators announced after Urquidí's visit that the course of the mediation proceedings would not be disturbed through the new representation.

PRESIDENT WILL ATTEND EXERCISES FOR MEMORIAL DAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 30.—President Wilson today changed his plans and decided to attend the Memorial day exercises at Arlington National Cemetery.

Secretary Tumulty made a statement explaining that the "president was not willing that his absence should be misconstrued."

In announcing the President's decision, Secretary Tumulty said: "When the invitation was extended by the committee representing the Grand Army of the Republic of the District of Columbia, the President informed the committee that he did not think the occasion would be an opportune for the delivery of an appropriate address and because of this he felt he must decline the invitation, agreeing, however, to attend memorial service at a later day."

"Evidently a false construction has been placed upon this action and therein lies the reason for the change in program."

"The president was not willing that his absence should be misconstrued."

"When it was finally announced a few days ago that the President could not accept the invitation of the G. A. R. to attend the services managers of the memorial invited Speaker Champ Clark to make the principal address. The speaker was at Atlantic City taking a rest but changed his plans and last night returned to Washington and began preparing his address."

ROOSEVELT SAILS FOR SPAIN TODAY FOR THE WEDDING

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 30.—Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by Philip Roosevelt, a young cousin and his eldest daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati, sailed for Spain today on the steamer Olympic to attend the wedding of his son Kermit, in Madrid, on June 10 to Miss Belle Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain.

The colonel said before leaving that he had issued an important political statement for publication in tomorrow's papers. He added that most of his time while away will be devoted to writing an account of his South American travels.

On the steamer Col. Roosevelt had a meeting with George W. Perkins, Alexander P. Moore of Pittsburgh, Merrill McCormick of Chicago and several other "Progressive" leaders.

CLERKS' STRIKE IS AVERTED.
Zanesville, May 30.—At the eleventh hour the merchants and clerks union got together last night and amicably settled their differences, so a strike, which was to have been called Monday was averted. The clerks were granted a half holiday on Thursday afternoon during the heated term, this being the chief bone of contention.

Decoration Day Was Generally Observed By Newark Citizens

Newark is today placing a fresh bouquet on each of her 701 soldiers' and sailors' graves, in silent tribute to their memory.

Memorial day dawned cloudily and with somewhat lower temperature than prevailed the greater part of the week. Flags and bunting streamed from business houses and homes, and the holiday atmosphere was in evidence generally. All stores were closed part or all of the day; most of them remaining open until noon.

The day's ceremonies in memory of the soldier and sailor dead began on schedule time when a dozen automobiles bearing the decorating committee in charge and a great mass of beautiful bouquets proceeded to Mt. Calvary cemetery.

The Mt. Calvary decorating section, Capt. John Hiser commanding, with Lieut. C. H. Rosebraugh, left the Memorial building at 7:30 o'clock sharp, and reaching Mt. Calvary cemetery decorated the fifty-six graves there. Knights of Columbus and Knights of St. John were present.

Automobiles were furnished by J. R. Fitzgibbon, W. B. Boyer, C. L. V. Holtz, J. J. Carroll, Frank Bader, Charles Miller, Charles W. Hoover, William Miller, J. A. McGonagle, Edward Kibler, William Smith and F. M. B. Whiale.

Motor ambulances of Criss Bros., Bazler & Bradley, and Clinis & Martin, were in readiness in case any of the marchers should be overcome with the heat. The latter ambulance was equipped with seats and conveyed flower girls to Mt. Calvary cemetery.

The speaker is Roscoe Shrager of Alliance, O., an orator well known in throughout northern Ohio. The parade line formed for the march to Cedar Hill cemetery shortly before 10 o'clock, headed by a squad of police, Chief Marshal, Capt. W. C. Miller and Chief of Staff Capt. C. V. Priest, followed by Company B, Old Guard, and its fife and drum corps. Next in line came Company G, Fourth Infantry, O. N. G., which now awaits the possibility of a call to Mexico. The Catholic order, Knights of St. John, came next, after which came Lemert post, G. A. R., the Union Veterans Legion, Spanish war veterans and Sons of Veterans. The Buckeye band was followed by St. Stephen's Hungarian society, Knights of Columbus, county and city officials, Lemert Relief corps, Daughters of Veterans, flower girls and a goodly train of carriages.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, May 30.—Louis P. Hostler, 75, a widely and well known brewer died today. He was an active member of an old brewing company which bore his name.

He was born in Columbus in 1839.

LIVERY RIG WAS HIRED BY STRANGER; FAILS TO RETURN

A man giving his name as W. M. Hoffman hired a livery rig of Elmer J. Jones in the rear of 24 South Fourth street Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to drive to Alexandria and up until Saturday noon nothing further has been heard from him.

Hoffman is also alleged to have jumped a bond bill at the Commercial House in South Fifth street, appropriating the landlady's pocketbook. He claimed to be an auto supply salesman and has been driving out of the city for the past three weeks. His description has been sent to over 100 cities by Chief Sheridan and he may be apprehended.

Officers Confiscate 'Wet' Goods In Raid On Hotel at Bruno

"The alleged sale of booze at Buckeye Lake has got to stop, if it is necessary to call out the state militia and declare martial law," said Chief Evans of the bureau of detectives connected with the legal department of the Ohio State Liquor Licensing commission, to Chief James Sheridan, Saturday morning, after he had returned from Bruno, where a squad under his command had raided the "Villa" hotel at that lake resort, which is under the management of Dan Sullivan, formerly of Newark.

The officers got 60 barrels of beer and about four barrels of whiskey in the raid, which was made just after daylight.

The squad of detectives with Chief Evans came to Newark Friday evening and spent some time with Mayor E. C. Bigbee and Chief Sheridan, preparing the warrants, which were issued upon the affidavits of one of the detectives named Penner.

They were issued under a section of the general code, against keeping a place where intoxicating liquors are kept and sold, and were directed against Robert White, Daniel Sullivan, and two against John Doe, a fifth was against a man named Fickle, who is charged with operating a place at another part of the lake.

Chief Sheridan detailed officers Buehler and Boscowan of the Newark force to assist the state officers, and the party left Newark in automobiles at 2 o'clock Saturday morning.

After arriving at the lake, the warrant was served on Sullivan, and the John Doe warrants upon St. E. Cook and Harry Spier, employees at the place. The warrant against White was served at his home in West Church street. All were brought to Newark police headquarters and gave bonds in the sum of $500 each for their preliminary hearing next Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock before Mayor Bigbee.

After these preliminaries officers went to get Fickle later in the morning. When the officers searched for incriminating evidence in the form of intoxicants they found it in nearly every room. As they were going through the hotel Chief Evans would ask "what's in that room?" "We keep that locked," would be the reply.

"Well open it up," and in many cases the room would have whiskey and beer within.

After completing the search part of the officers brought the men arrested to Newark leaving several of

1032 LOST WHEN BOAT WENT DOWN

Figures Compiled By Canadian Pacific Railway Made Public

ONLY 355 WERE SAVED

From the Ill-Fated Empress of Ireland, Which Was Rammed by the Danish Collier Storstad in the St. Lawrence.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Quebec, May 30.—More than 1,000 persons lost their lives when the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Ireland sank in the St. Lawrence early Friday morning after the liner had been rammed by the Danish collier Storstad.

Figures compiled by the Canadian Pacific railway company and made public today indicated that 1032 persons in all had perished. Their list follows:

First class passengers saved, 183; second and third class passengers 131. Crew saved, 256; total 355. The number of passengers carried by the Empress of Ireland:

First class, 87; second class, 153; third class, 715; crew 432; total 1,387.

With the survivors safe in Quebec, where their wants and sorrows are being given every possible care, attention was turned today to Rismouski, where efforts to recover the bodies of victims are in progress.

Up to an early hour today over 300 bodies had been landed there. The dead were piled in tiers, making it possible to closely scrutinize the bodies for purposes of identification. Few have so far been recognized, but this work was earnestly undertaken after daybreak today.

There appears to be many foreigners among the dead, judging from passports found on the bodies. Women and children are plentifully represented in the grim piles among them one mother with her child pressed closely to her breast.

Those who witnessed the scene at Rismouski where the sad harvest of the rescue ships were laid on the piers and sheds, say that the sight was heartrending. Many of the dead stared heavenward with wide opened eyes, some with horror in them and others with an air of puzzled surprise. There was but little attempt to cover the corpses and for the most part they lay practically as they had been taken out of the water, some half dressed and others nearly naked.

The tender Lady Grey has been designated as a funeral ship and is expected to reach Quebec late today with the bodies of the dead so far recovered. An army of carriers and undertakers who worked all last night, are still busy converting one of the large freight sheds on the harbor front into a temporary morgue for the reception of bodies. The collier Storstad, which rammed the ill-fated Empress of Ireland, arrived here shortly after 1 o'clock this morning accompanied by the wrecking steamer Strathcona and anchored in mid-stream. A press boat went out but newspaper men were refused permission to board.

It was learned however, that she had saved many of the Empress passengers.

The Storstad is badly damaged, having a hole some 15 feet square in her bow. She is waiting for orders to say whether she will dock here or go to Montreal. Captain Thomas Anderson of the Storstad was asleep when the vessel reached this port and had left orders not to be disturbed.

Stories of the loss of the Empress of Ireland brought to Quebec last night by the survivors gave vivid details of the most terrible tragedy in the annals of the St. Lawrence. Some compared the disaster to that which befell the Titanic but pointed out that in the case of the Titanic there was time to prepare for death, while with those who perished on the Empress there was little time for reflection or prayer.

In many cases indeed, survivors declare, death must have come with wonderful swiftness and before the victims realized that their hour had struck.

From the accounts of the saved it seems that soon after the ship was rammed she careened until her deck stood at right angles to the water. She slid slowly into the water and it was only possible to launch five boats in the brief interval before she finally sank.

Captain Kendall was on the bridge when the collision occurred. When the steamer sank, he was washed away, later to be picked up by one of the boats, apparently to his great regret. Thus far he has vouchsafed no public statement except to say that he would have preferred to have gone down with his ship. Passengers who observed him during the frightful few minutes after the ship was struck, speak his praise and declare he did his full duty.

Chief officer Stead, it is stated, was killed by a fall falling on him (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1.)

KARLUK'S CREW REPORTED SAFE IN FAR NORTH

Nome, Alaska, May 30.—The Steffansson steamer Karluk was crushed in the ice and sank Jan. 12. The entire crew is at North Herald Island with plenty of food and wood.

New York, May 30.—The Karluk, which carried the Steffansson expedition to the Arctic, was crushed in the ice last January, according to a message received here from St. Michael's, Alaska.

The message announcing the fate of the Karluk read as follows: "Karluk crushed in ice January, 60 miles off Herald Island, Bartlett arrived here last night. Whaler Herman of Siberia assistance for crew, Wrangle Island."

This somewhat cryptic message was addressed to Herbert Bridgman of Brooklyn, long interested in Arctic exploration work. The Bartlett referred to is Captain Robert Bartlett, who commanded Peary's ship, Roosevelt, and later assumed command of the Karluk.

RETRACTION.

I feel compelled by a sense of fairness and justice to retract various statements made by me reflecting on the character of my wife Maude Halderman. Those statements resulted from a frenzied jealousy helped along by drink and were not warranted by the facts, as I can see now as I look at the whole matter with sober judgment. She has put up with a lot from me in the past without complaint and I cannot justly say that she has ever been other than a good wife and a Christian woman. C. S. Halderman, husband.

HICCUGHS

ARE NOW BEING OBSERVED IN HOSPITAL.

All Have Had Recurrences of Ailment And Doctors Are Studying Cases.

Columbus, May 30.—On three separate occasions, in three separate hospitals in Protestant Hospital, the victims of an epidemic of hiccoughing, apparently out of danger, but still under observation in the hope that some new facts may be learned about this common, but not understood, malady. The three patients are Italians, are neighbors and live near Glenn avenue and Arlington, in Marble Cliff.

Hiccoughs, according to all medical authorities, are neither contagious nor infectious, therefore even incipient epidemics are rare and are only to be attributed to psychological influences. The conclusion of those who are observing the three cases is that this is exactly what has happened. The patients are two girls and a young man. One girl and the man live under the same roof, and the other girl lives just across the street. All have had the ailment once or twice recently and have been cured only by heroic treatment. The recurrence followed in each instance upon return to the environment of the home.

The girls are Julia Onorato, aged 17, and Antonietta Mastro, aged 19, a bride of a week. The man's name is John Segliolo.

Practically all medical authorities agree that hiccoughs are due to an irritation of the terminal filaments of the nerves supplying the diaphragm. Severe attacks are frequently due to nervousness. They also accompany or follow hysteria. That is the diagnosis of Dr. J. F. Jones in the present case.

Wednesday evening the physician was called to their home and worked with the two patients all night long without being able to effect a change in their condition. Thursday they were brought to the hospital and widely separated. Chloroform and the local application of ethyl chloride to the throat did not bring relief. An injection of apomorphine, which induced vomiting, was more successful. Hospital authorities were preparing for the last and most desperate remedy, which is blood-letting, but this proved to be unnecessary.

The fact that the trouble has been recurrent with two of the three patients and severe with all of them, is believed to warrant this treatment. Cases are on record where hiccoughing has continued for two weeks before death intervened. It is very seldom, however, that it is fatal.

It is believed that the elder of the girls, for some reason, was exhausted nervously and in that condition became a victim of hysteria. The hiccoughing then appeared as a phase of her hysteria. Subconscious imitation is credited with the remaining cases. The fact that none of the patients at any time manifested any temperature is held to substantiate the theory that has been advanced at the hospital.

It is probable that these cases, because of the several unusual phases, will be reported in the medical journals. There is no accepted theory of the trouble which is not a germ disease nor infectious.

THIRTY CARS BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Indianapolis, May 30.—Thirty cars, representing six nations—United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium—battled for cash prizes totaling $50,000 at the Indianapolis motor speedway today in fourth annual 500 mile automobile race. The attendance which last year was more than 91,000 was expected to reach 100,000 today.

Thousands of race enthusiasts were on their way to the speedway long before the gates were opened at six o'clock and the crowds continued to arrive until after the race started at ten o'clock. The day dawned clear and much cooler than for several days.

While the French are favored in the betting, a number of American pilots just before the race started expressed their determination to wrest the honors which Jules Goux won last year for France. In the elimination trials the foreign cars showed more speed but the Americans are depending on the durability of their mounts to offset the high speed in the long run. Originally 45 races were entered, but 15 of these either disqualified in the speed trials or withdrew, as the speedway management would permit only the 30 fastest to start. The number of the car, the driver and the country they represent are as follows:

- 1—Dribrow, driver, United States

Today We Celebrate

Today is the anniversary of the burning of Joan of Arc, the poor peasant girl who saved France, and who was convicted of sorcery by a "spiritual tribunal" and on May 30, 1431, was tied to a stake and consumed by the devouring flames. The Maid of Orleans won beatification from the Catholic church about eight years ago, but it is not likely that she will be proclaimed a saint for several years to come. The canonization of the Blessed Joan cannot take place until the entire congregation of Rites at Rome has passed judgment and reported favorably on the two miracles alleged to have been performed by Joan. At least two years must pass before the canonization cause can be approved, and the Pope can issue a Bull by which the Maid of Orleans will be given a place on the roll of Christian saints. For many years a committee of prominent Frenchmen have labored to inaugurate a national festival in honor of Joan, but the Chamber of Deputies has persistently refused to institute such a fête, and the annual celebration in Paris are held under private auspices and paid for by private contributions. In Paris there are but two statues of Joan, while Voltaire has eight and many lesser heroes from two to five each.

Jewish Festival of Pentecost to Be Celebrated Tonight

The celebration of Pentecost, also called Shavuoth or the Feast of the First Fruits, will begin this evening among the Jewish people of this city and throughout the world. When the sun sets this evening forty-nine days will have passed since the beginning of Passover, and therefore the fiftieth day—Pentecost—will be ushered in tonight, since the Hebrew day is from sunset to sunset. Like the other great Jewish feasts, Pentecost originated in Palestine, and it was originally the harvest festival of the farming people. Persecution and exile, continuing through centuries, have driven the Jews from the land, and forced them to devote their energies largely to commerce, trade and finance, but in origin they were an agricultural race. The Jews of old inaugurated the harvest by bringing into the temple an offering of bread made from newly reaped wheat, and thanked Jehovah for his bounty before they went forth to the harvest.

Pentecost is also observed as the anniversary of the promulgation of the Ten Commandments, and in the Jewish religion of today this significance is emphasized, while the harvest festival has naturally lapsed. The latter phase of the celebration is, however, being revived by the Israeli farmers in Palestine, who have been returned to the land of their fathers.

Although this Jewish festival commemorates an event—the giving of the laws of Moses on Mount Sinai which is generally recognized by the Christian world, and by the Moslems as well, as one of the most profoundly important factors in the civilization of humanity, the disciples of Judaism have never made that fact the basis for a proselytizing campaign among people of other faiths. The Jews ever followed the advice of Micah, "Let all the nations walk every one in the name of his god." The spirit of religious intolerance which animated the ancient Jews in their wars of extermination has long since vanished from Judaism. The synagogues throughout the world are open to all who wish to enter, but Judaism has no missionaries and does not seek to convert those of other religions. The Jews resent the interference of the agents of other faiths, and in refraining from retaliation, they act on the excellent advice of Hillet: "That which is hateful to thee, do not do unto thy neighbor."

Newspapers And the Pulpit

EDITOR, TOO, IS "CALLED."

Stands With the Preacher, Says E. E. Kelley of the Toronto Republican.

WHETHER the bent of a man's mind, whatever the development of his body or the quality of the gray matter of his brain, two things must come into the life of every normal man. Once, at least, soon or late, there comes a time when love pipes on his golden reed, and, hearing, he needs must follow to the piper's merry tune. And once again, and perhaps many times, Jehovah calls all men—an insistent call that comes through the sunlight of God's sweet day or in the still watches of the night, demanding of him service—demanding of him that he be, and do, good; demanding that he serve his fellow men according to his talent; that he help and make his little world, the community or city in which he lives, the better for his having been in it. The life of the preacher who is called of God is a life of service. He has little time for business, except that of his heavenly Father. He is an actor in all parts of the drama of life. He christens the infant, joins men and maids in wedlock, visits the old, prays with the sick and afflicted, gives spiritual advice and consolation, and when man returns to the dust from whence he came teaches the great comforting fact that it is possible for the grave to be swallowed up in victory.

And what about the editor who has heard and heeded the call—the call to service? I know the popular but apocryphal type of country editor—the man who takes cabbage and cordwood on subscription; whose ready print comes C. O. D., who sells his paper in political campaigns to the highest bidder. Like Sairy Gamp's esteemed friend, Miss Harris, "There ain't no such person."

The typical country editor of this part of the west is another personality. His columns are the annals of country folk, the history of neighborhoods and families, the heartbeat of the community. He is with his people through the fat and the lean years. His paper is the diary of their civilization. And by the fireside in the home its pages are gone over column by column and paragraph by paragraph. And this is service.

And the paper prints the news worth printing—the clean news. He has convictions on moral questions, and when vice threatens the boys and girls of his little town he takes his subscription list and advertising columns in hand and stands shoulder to shoulder with the preacher in fighting the good fight. For the true editor hearkens to his "call."

DO YOUR WORK WELL.

We never know for what God is preparing us in His schools —for what work on earth, for what work in the hereafter. Our business is to do our work well in the present place, whatever that may be. —DR. LYMAN ABBOTT

Child Cross? Feverish? Sick?

A cross, peevish, listless child, with coated tongue, pale, doesn't sleep, eats sometimes very little, then again ravenously; stomach sour; breath fetid; pains in stomach, with diarrhea; grinds teeth while asleep, and starts up with terror—all suggest a Worm Killer—something that expels worms, and almost every child has them. Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box today. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection. Expels the worms, the cause of your child's trouble. Heroism of Steadfast Purpose!

It is appropriate that there should be special days when tribute is paid to deeds of glory and men of valor!

It is reasonable and logical that monuments should perpetuate the memory of great men who were part of great movements.

Every individual shares in admiration for bravery, energy, purpose and determination.

The contest of war produced great men, formed strong characters; were full of epochal incidents.

But the battles of peace are of lasting import, offering an opportunity for great men of the present to assist in the establishing of ideal conditions for the children of the future.

The church offers to us all the possibility of accomplishments that shall benefit future generations.

The time for activities, the opportunities for effective work, the need of persistence for good, for patriotic and righteous development, was never so great as now, and never so fruitful as it can be made right now.

Every man owes it to himself to enlist in the cause of pushing forward and onward, the engine of higher standards.

Efficient workers are needed in the church field.

Each individual has some particular strength that will be of value in smoothing the road for progress, making burdens easier to carry, and producing results that are satisfactory.

From everyone according to his merits to everyone according to his needs, is a condition easily made possible if appreciated.

The demand of the hour is for those who can and will help in pushing forward the aims and plans of the big battle for betterment.

Harmony is the watchword; zeal is the necessity; "Onward" is the ensign, and success is just ahead.

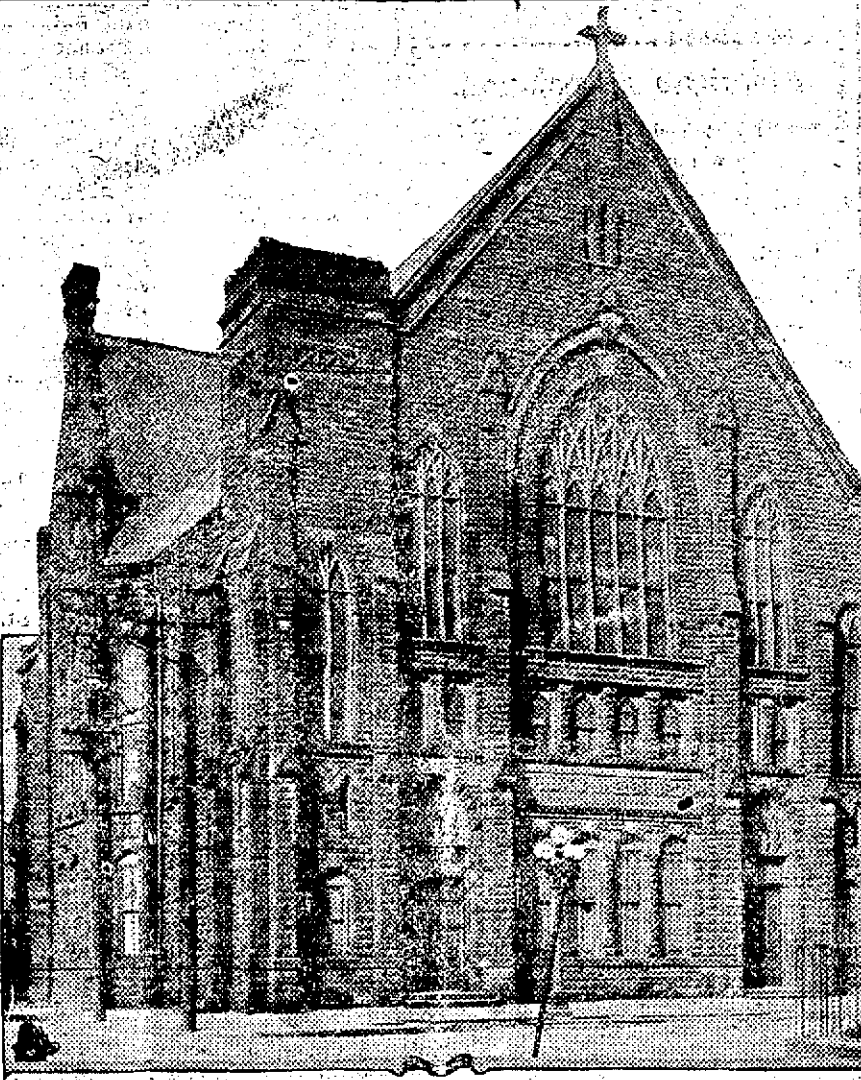

"One holy church, one army strong, one steadfast, high intent, one working band, one harvest song; one King Omnipotent."

Newark has church organizations requiring volunteer workers, requiring good listeners, who are good doers, not hearers of the word only.

Every church has a place for any worker; every congregation will welcome anyone desiring to help; every city has its special needs for today, in its efforts to build for the future.

"Be Ye Steadfast, Unmovable, Always Abounding in the Works of the Lord, Forasmuch as Ye Know That Your Labors Are Not in Vain"

CENTURY OLD CHURCH TO HOUSE S. S. CONVENTION

Trinity M. E. Church, Corner Front and S. Phelps Sts., Youngstown, Ohio.

The main sessions of the State Sunday-school Convention, in Youngstown, June 16, 17 and 18, will be held at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, which has a seating capacity of 1,500, is one of the largest churches in Northeastern Ohio, and has as large an auditorium as any building in Youngstown. Churches of Youngstown are particularly well located for conventions, as three of the largest ones are within a minute's walk of one another and all downtown. This will facilitate the divisional meetings which occupy two of the afternoons.

TEACHERS' INITIATIVE MEETS WITH FAVOR

Many people are reluctant to take up new things. However, Mary C. Phillips, superintendent of the schools at Mallet Creek, Medina county, Ohio, is not one of them. When she came to her present position three years ago, she saw the need of some instruction in domestic science for the girls of her high school. Public sentiment, as might be expected, was not all on the side of the new departure. Although the school board had a good many misgivings, she finally persuaded them to buy the necessary equipment. A kitchen cabinet, a gasoline stove, dishes and other necessary articles were purchased. The school house contained no separate room that could be used for domestic science laboratory, so it was necessary to use one corner of the high school room. Here the pupils received their instruction and did their work. Even under these obstacles the plan has been so successful that a marked change has taken place in the attitude of the community. The board and patrons of the school are well pleased for they see how the instruction in the school is made to fit in the home life of the pupils. The girls like the new order of things because they can now see more connection between the subjects taught in school and the work that they may reasonably expect to do in mature life.

E. D. Soper—who has been called from Ohio Wesleyan to be Professor of Comparative Religion, Drew Theological Seminary, New York. He is one of the rising young theologians of the United States, and will be heard in a number of addresses at the State Sunday-school Convention, in Youngstown, June 16, 17 and 18.

PRACTICAL WORK WILL BE SHOWN AT S. S. CONVENTION

This is the day of laboratory and advanced workers in all lines of activity and it is possible to achieve results by this method which never were dreamed of before. Accordingly, one entire afternoon of the Ohio Sunday-school Convention, at Youngstown, June 16, 17 and 18, will be devoted to what are called "demonstrations." This will be divided into four divisions and held at four different churches. The elementary division will be at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, the secondary at the Central Christian Church, the adult division at Trinity M. E. Church, and the cradle roll and home department at the First Baptist Church. In each instance, the work will be in charge of experts. There will be a class on the platform and practical work with Sunday-school pupils of the several ages will be given. This work, has been allowed three full hours, so important is it in the judgment of the Sunday-school workers.

The elementary division will be in charge of Mrs. Phoebe A. Curtiss, State Elementary Secretary. Her work will be devoted to concrete examples of several lines of activity in the elementary division. There will be a circle talk for organizers, a lesson talk to primary children, a story told for juveniles, and a Bible story dramatized. Assisting Mrs. Curtiss will be Misses Rowe, Frayser, Harris and Faris, and Mrs. Hill.

M. G. Bally, Assistant State Secretary, will have charge of the secondary division. There will be a demonstration of boys work here, as well as reports of committees and the teaching of a lesson.

Edmond F. Arras, State Treasurer, will have charge of the adult division. He will demonstrate the organization of an adult class, its annual business session, and a weekly class session. Modern plans of development, reports of contest and lesson teaching will be shown.

Cradle roll and home department will be demonstrated by Miss Hattie Reed, who will have the assistance of Mrs. J. S. Good, of Lucas county, and Mrs. Etta Smith, of Marion county. These women will show how calls are made on parents, how their interest is enlisted in behalf of children too young to come to Sunday-school, and how the home department cares for all who are unable to visit the Sabbath-school regularly.

These several demonstrations will conclude with a conference of county officers and department superintendents.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The warm weather is making the men and boys take to the swimming pool. A large number have taken out memberships during the last week. The tennis courts are furnishing amusement for a good number. Two dollars is the rate of membership for either the tennis or swimming.

The Rural Mail Carriers of the county held a meeting in the boys' room on Saturday evening, May 23. The picnic committee of the Methodist Sunday schools of the city held a meeting in the building on Monday evening. The Federation of Women's clubs held a meeting in Taylor Hall, Thursday afternoon.

Arrangements have been made to allow the girls of the Y. W. C. A., under the direction of Miss Crosby, the physical director, the use of the swimming pool on Wednesdays from 8:30 to 10 a. m. and from 7:15 to 8:30 p. m.

Mr. C. A. Harter, who has been in charge of the care of the building for the past five years, has accepted a similar position at the John J. Carroll store. His valuable services in connection with the Association are worthy of special mention.

Physical Director Roberts and Assistant Secretary Bayles spent Friday evening and night with a group of Junior boys at "Stadden's Bridge." Last Saturday the Junior Boys had a baseball game at the White Athletic Field.

Forty-eight boys attended the Tuesday afternoon class. Swimming is the main feature of the class work during the hot weather. Special classes will be arranged for those boys who can not swim, whether they are members or not. Any boy can get into these classes by making arrangements at the office.

Some of us can even get pleasure out of our troubles by telling them to other people.

HAD SALT-RHEUM FOR MANY YEARS

Doctors Failed to Cure Him—Goodhair Soap Did the Work in Three Days.

"For a long time I have suffered and been annoyed with a breaking out on my face, but the doctors called it salt rheum. My hands were in such an awful condition I was ashamed to have them seen, so I did not have a pair of old gloves on I would keep my hands in my pockets to prevent undue attention. Consulted several doctors and tried a number of remedies without any good results. Mr. J. L. Bolton of this city gave me two little samples of Goodhair Soap, requesting me to try it. The first application of the latter of this wonderful Soap gave me benefit and in three days' time my hands were entirely well."

ECZEMA ITCHED FOR 20 YEARS—RESINOL CURED

Dec. 3, 1913: "I had eczema for 20 years. It started on me when I was but 13 years old and am now 34, and have suffered all these years. It started with small pimples. My hands were all swollen up so that I could not shut them, and I was almost blind. It would itch, then burn, and I had to keep the affected parts wrapped up so that I would not scratch them. I couldn't sleep at all—just walked the floor a whole night. I have tried many different remedies, and spent a large sum of money, but had no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment were recommended to me. They gave me great relief; after the third application, and after using four jars of Resinol Ointment and three cakes of Resinol Soap, I am completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. H. E. Fleager, Box 13, Dauphin, Pa.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap sold by all druggists for 19 years.

RETRACTION.

I feel compelled by a sense of fairness and justice to retract various statements made by me reflecting on the character of my wife Maude Halderman. Those statements resulted from a frenzied jealousy helped along by drink and were not warranted by the facts, as I can see now as I look at the whole matter with sober judgment. She has put up with a lot from me in the past without complaint and I cannot justly say that she has ever been other than a good wife and a Christian woman. C. S. Halderman, husband.

HICCUGHS

ATTACK THREE PERSONS WHO ARE NOW BEING OBSERVED IN HOSPITAL.

All Have Had Recurrences of Ailment And Doctors Are Studying Cases.

Columbus, May 30.—On three separate occasions, in three separate wards in Protestant Hospital, lie the victims of an epidemic of hiccoughs, apparently out of danger, but still under observation in the hope that some new facts may be learned about this common, but not understood, malady. The three patients are Italians, are neighbors and live near Glenn avenue and Arlington, in Marble Cliff.

Hiccoughs, according to all medical authorities, are neither contagious nor infectious, therefore even incipient epidemics are rare and are only to be attributed to psychological influences. The conclusion of those who are observing the three cases is that this is exactly what has happened. The patients are two girls and a young man. One girl and the man live under the same roof, and the other girl lives just across the street. All have had the ailment once or twice recently and have been cured only by heroic treatment. The recurrence followed in each instance upon return to the environment of the home.

The girls are Julia Onorato, aged 17, and Antoinetta Mastro, aged 19, a bride of a week. The man's name is John Segliolo.

Practically all medical authorities agree that hiccoughs are due to an irritation of the terminal filaments of the nerves supplying the diaphragm. Severe attacks are frequently due to nervousness. They also accompany or follow hysteria. That is the diagnosis of Dr. J. F. Jones in the present case.

Wednesday evening the physician was called to their home and worked with the two patients all night long without being able to effect a change in their condition. Thursday they were brought to the hospital and widely separated. Chloroform and the local application of ethyl chloride to the throat did not bring relief. An injection of apomorphine, which induced vomiting, was more successful.

Hospital authorities are preparing for the last and most desperate remedy, which is blood-letting, but this proved to be unnecessary.

The fact that the trouble has been recurrent with two of the three patients and severe with all of them, is believed to warrant this treatment. Cases are on record where hiccoughing has continued for two weeks before death intervened. It is very seldom, however, that it is fatal.

It is believed that the elder of the girls, for some reason, was exhausted nervously and in that condition became a victim of hysteria. The hiccoughing then appeared as a phase of her hysteria. Subconscious imitation is credited with the remaining cases. The fact that none of the patients at any time manifested any temperature is held to substantiate the theory that has been advanced at the hospital.

It is probable that these cases, because of the several unusual phases, will be reported in the medical journals. There is no accepted theory of the trouble which is not a germ disease nor infectious.

THIRTY CARS BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Indianapolis, May 30.—Thirty cars, representing six nations—United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium—battled for supremacy today in the Indianapolis motor speedway.

The race was a 100-mile automobile race. The attendance which last year was more than 91,000 was expected to reach 100,000 today.

Thousands of race enthusiasts were on their way to the speedway long before the gates were opened at six o'clock and the crowds continued to arrive until after the race started at ten o'clock. The day dawned clear and much cooler than for several days.

The French are favored in the betting, a number of American pilots just before the race started, expressed their determination to wrest the honors which Jules Goux won last year for France. In the elimination trials the foreign cars showed more speed but the Americans are depending on the durability of their mounts to offset the high speed in the long run. Originally 45 cars were entered but 15 of these either disqualified in the speed trials or withdrew, as the speedway management would permit only the 30 fastest to start. The number of the car, the driver and the country they represent are as follows:

1—Dribrow, driver, United States.
2—Cooper, driver, United States.
3—Oldfield, driver, United States.
4—Wilcox, driver, United States.
5—Keene, driver, United States.
6—Goux, driver, France.
7—Bollot, driver, France.
8—Tetzlaff, driver, United States.
9—Christians, driver, Belgium.
10—Guyot, driver, France.
11—Chassagne, driver, Great Britain.
12—Mason, driver, United States.
13—Dunlap, driver, France.
14—Klein, driver, United States.
15—Thomas, driver, France.
16—Burman, driver, United States.
17—Wishart, driver, United States.
18—Bragg, driver, United States.
19—Mulford, driver, Germany.
20—Anderson, driver, United States.
21—Carlson, driver, United States.
22—Dawson, driver, United States.
23—Grant, driver, Great Britain.
24—Knipper, driver, United States.
25—Friedrich, driver, Germany.

27—Richenbacher, driver, United States.
28—Haupt, driver, United States.
29—Brook, driver, United States.

Thomas, 16, was leading at the completion of fifty miles by about a quarter of a lap. Christians, 9, followed with Anderson, 24, close behind.

Today We Celebrate

Today is the anniversary of the burning of Joan of Arc, the poor peasant girl who saved France, and who was convicted of sorcery by a "spiritual tribunal" and on May 30, 1431, was tied to a stake and consumed by the devouring flames. The Maid of Orleans won beatification from the Catholic church about eight years ago, but it is not likely that she will be proclaimed a saint for several years to come. The canonization of the Blessed Joan cannot take place until the entire congregation of Rites at Rome was passed judgment and reported favorably on the two miracles alleged to have been performed by Joan. At least two years must pass before the Canonization Cause can be approved, and the Pope can issue a Bull by which the Maid of Orleans will be given a place on the roll of Christian saints. For many years a committee of prominent Frenchmen have labored to inaugurate a national festival in honor of Joan, but the Chamber of Deputies has persistently refused to institute such a fête, and the annual celebration in Paris are held under private auspices and paid for by private contributions. In Paris there are but two statues of Joan, while Voltaire has eight and many lesser heroes from two to five each.

Jewish Festival of Pentecost to Be Celebrated Tonight

The celebration of Pentecost, also called Shavuoth or the Feast of the First Fruits, will begin this evening among the Jewish people of this city and throughout the world. When the sun sets this evening forty-nine days will have passed since the beginning of Passover, and therefore the fiftieth day—Pentecost—will be ushered in tonight, since the Hebrew day is from sunset to sunset. Like the other great Jewish feasts, Pentecost originated in Palestine, and it was originally the harvest festival of a farming people, through centuries, have driven the Jews from the land, and forced them to devote their energies largely to commerce, trade and finance, but in origin they were an agricultural race. The Jews of old inaugurated the harvest by bringing into the temple an offering of bread made from newly reaped wheat, and thanked Jehovah for his bounty before they went forth to the harvest.

Pentecost is also observed as the anniversary of the promulgation of the Ten Commandments, and in the Jewish of today this significance is emphasized, while the harvest festival has naturally lapsed. The latter phase of the celebration is, however, being revived by the Israeli farmers in Palestine, who have been returned to the land of their fathers.

Although this Jewish festival commemorates an event—the giving of the laws of Moses on Mount Sinai which is generally recognized by the Christian world, and by the Moslems as well, as one of the most profoundly important factors in the civilizing of humanity, the disciples of Judaism have never made that fact the basis for a proselytizing campaign among people of other faiths. The Jews have followed the advice of Micah, "Let all the nations walk in the name of his god." The spirit of religious intolerance which animated the ancient Jews in their wars of extermination has long since vanished from Judaism. The synagogues throughout the world are open to all who wish to enter, but Judaism has no missionaries, and does not seek to convert those of other religions. The Jews resent the interference of the agents of other faiths, and in refraining from retaliation, they act on the excellent advice of Hillel: "That which is hateful to thee, do not do unto thy neighbor."

Newspapers And the Pulpit

EDITOR, TOO, IS "CALLED."

Stands With the Preacher, Says E. E. Kelley of the Toronto Republican.

E. E. KELLEY.

WHATEVER the bent of a man's mind, whatever the development of his body or the quality of the gray matter of his brain, two things must come into the life of every normal man. Once at least, soon or late, there comes a time when love pipes on his golden reed, and hearing, he needs must follow to the pipe's merry tune. And once again, and perhaps many times, Jehovah calls all men—an insistent call that comes through the sunlight of God's sweet day, or in the still watches of the night, demanding of him service—demanding of him that he be, and do, good; demanding that he serve his fellow men according to his talent; that he help and make his little world, the community or city in which he lives, the better for his having been in it. The life of the preacher who is called of God is a life of service. He has little time for business, except that of his heavenly Father. He is an actor in all parts of the drama of life. He christens the infant, joins men and maids in wedlock, visits the old, prays with the sick and afflicted, gives spiritual advice and consolation, and when man returns to the dust from whence he came teaches the great comforting fact that it is possible for the grave to be swallowed up in victory.

And what about the editor who has heard and heeded the call—the call to service? I know the popular but apocryphal tale of country editor—the man who takes cabbage and cordwood on subscription; whose ready print comes C. O. D.; who sells his paper in political campaigns to the highest bidder. Like Sairy Gamp's esteemed friend, Miss Harris, "There ain't no such person."

The typical country editor of this part of the west is another personality. His columns are the annals of country folk, the history of neighborhoods and families, the heartbeat of the community. He is with his people through the fat and the lean years. His paper is the diary of their civilization. And by the fireside in the home its pages are gone over column by column and paragraph by paragraph. And this is service.

And the paper prints the news worth printing—the clean news. He has convictions on moral questions, and when vice threatens the boys and girls of his little town he takes his subscription list and advertising columns in hand and stands shoulder to shoulder with the preacher in fighting the good fight. For the true editor hearkens to his "call."

DO YOUR WORK WELL.

We never know for what God is preparing us in His schools—for what work on earth, for what work in the hereafter. Our business is to do our work well in the present place, whatever that may be. —DR. LYMAN ABBOTT

Child Cross? Feverish? Sick?

A cross, peevish, listless child, with coated tongue, pale, doesn't sleep; eats sometimes very little, then again ravenously; stomach sour; breath fetid; pains in stomach, with diarrhea, grinds teeth while asleep, and starts up with terror—all suggest a Worm Killer—something that expels worms, and almost every child has them. Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box today. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection. Expels the worms, the cause of your child's trouble. Heroism of Steadfast Purpose!

It is appropriate that there should be special days when tribute is paid to deeds of glory and men of valor!

It is reasonable and logical that monuments should perpetuate the memory of great men who were part of great movements.

Every individual shares in admiration for bravery, energy, purpose and determination. The contest of war produced great men, formed strong characters; were full of epochal incidents.

But the battles of peace are of lasting import, offering an opportunity for great men of the present to assist in the establishing of ideal conditions for the children of the future.

The church offers to us all the possibility of accomplishments that shall benefit future generations.

The time for activities, the opportunities for effective work, the need of persistence for good for patriotic and righteous development, was never so great as now, and never so fruitful as it can be made right now.

Every man owes it to himself to enlist in the cause of pushing forward and onward, the ensign of higher standards.

Efficient workers are needed in the church field.

Each individual has some particular strength that will be of value in smoothing the road for progress, making burdens easier to carry, and producing results that are satisfactory.

From everyone according to his merits to everyone according to his needs, is a condition easily made possible if appreciated.

The demand of the hour is for those who can and will help in pushing forward the aims and plans of the big battle for betterment.

Harmony is the watchword; zeal is the necessity; "Onward" is the ensign, and success is just ahead.

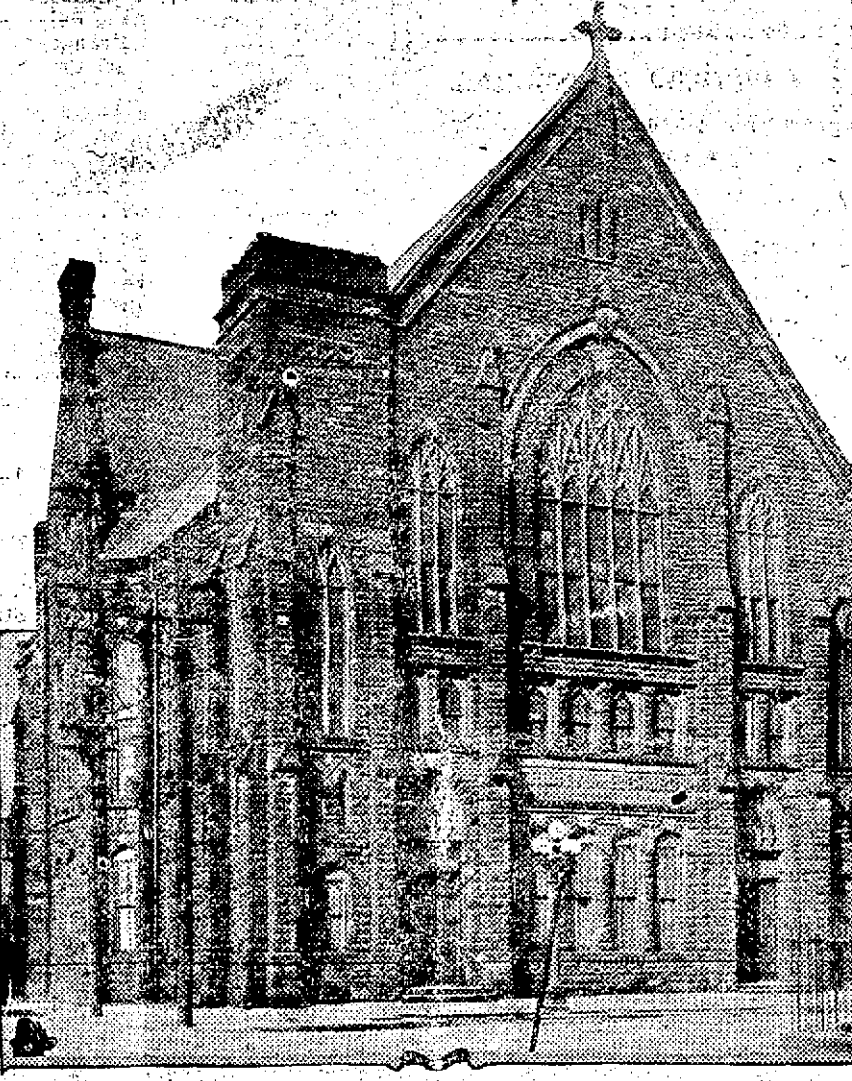

"One holy church, one army strong, one steadfast, high intent; one working band, one harvest song; one King Omnipotent."

Newark has church organizations requiring volunteer workers, requiring good listeners, who are good doers, not hearers of the word only.

Every church has a place for any worker; every congregation will welcome anyone desiring to help; every city has its special needs for today, in its efforts to build for the future.

"Be Ye Steadfast, Unmovable, Always Abounding in the Works of the Lord, Forasmuch as Ye Know That Your Labors Are Not in Vain"

CENTURY OLD CHURCH TO HOUSE S. S. CONVENTION

Trinity M. E. Church, Corner Front and S. Phelps Sts., Youngstown, Ohio.

The main sessions of the State Sunday-school Convention, in Youngstown, June 16, 17 and 18, will be held at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, which has a seating capacity of 1,500, is one of the largest churches in Northeastern Ohio, and has as large an auditorium as any building in Youngstown. Churches of Youngstown are particularly well located for conventions, as three of the largest ones are within a minute's walk of one another and all downtown. This will facilitate the divisional meetings which occupy two of the afternoons.

TEACHER'S INITIATIVE MEETS WITH FAVOR

Many people are reluctant to take up new things. However, Mary C. Phillips, superintendent of the schools at Mallet Creek, Medina county, Ohio, is not one of them. When she came to her present position three years ago, she saw the need of some instruction in domestic science for the girls of her high school. Public sentiment, as might be expected, was not all on the side of the new departure. Although the school board had a good many misgivings, she finally persuaded them to buy the necessary equipment. A kitchen cabinet, a gasoline stove, dishes and other necessary articles were purchased. The school house contained no separate room that could be used for domestic science laboratory, so it was necessary to use one corner of the high school room. Here the pupils received their instruction and did their work. Even under these obstacles the plan has been so successful that a marked change has taken place in the attitude of the community. Memorial Day

Another Memorial day is here—a bright cheerful day bringing with it refreshing relief from the recent oppressive heat—and all Newark is joining with the veterans in showing reverence to the departed soldier veterans who lie buried in Cedar Hill and Mt. Calvary cemeteries.

Flags are everywhere, flowers are abundant and every soldier's grave is today marked as a tribute to devotion to duty and to country.

It is a fine sentiment that prompts the observance of Memorial day and it is a sentiment in which every citizen shares. The gallant veterans deserve tribute and the memory of their achievements is well worth honoring.

In remembering the dead and in placing flowers upon their resting places in our beautiful cemeteries, let us not forget the higher meaning of Memorial Day. Let us not forget the veterans who are still with us. Bouquets mean more to them now than will flowers placed upon their graves in later years and by "bouquets" is not meant material flowers but kind acts, kind words and consideration. These are the real "flowers" and the men who went out from home and family in the long ago to save their country and to protect its honor deserve this recognition. All honor to the boys of '61, to the veterans of the Spanish war and to the few remaining men who participated in the war of '47.

Let's Have Cleaner Streets.

A plan for clean streets that will be a novelty in Newark—both the plan and that kind of streets—will be put to experiment next month by the Federation of Women's clubs of the city. It will be tried on the north side of the square beginning Monday, and the women hope that a practical demonstration of what such a condition means on that busy section between Second and Third streets, will be so forceful as to engender an overwhelming sentiment in favor of extending the movement, just as soon as ways and means can be adopted for so doing.

The expense of the coming experiment will be borne for a month by the club women, and they earnestly anticipate the effectual co-operation of the business men for a continuance of a condition, which would add to the beauty of the city, the health of the community and the actual material interests of the merchants in the business section.

On Monday a "white wing" will be put on duty, whose work will consist of keeping the roadway between Second and Third streets immaculately clean, and he will be employed throughout the day.

Those business places abutting upon the north side of the square can aid this work by careful avoidance of throwing out refuse and trash into the gutters, and upon the street; they should do so and undoubtedly will when the plan has been in operation long enough for them to appreciate its beneficial results.

The idea is a commendable one from any angle it is viewed, and the club women are to be congratulated upon making an attempt to do a thing that will awaken a higher conception of civic beauty, and the conservation of the community's health.

Uncle Walt

The Early Toiler.

Some fellows arise from their beds in the morning, when darkness is just giving place to the dawn, and everyone's rights in life neighborhood scoring, they push their old mowers all over the lawn. Their mowers are rusty, and screech like old Harry, go clickety-clank in a maddening way; the voice of a rusty old a rusty old mower will carry all over the village, at breaking of day. Then neighbors get up and lean out of their windows, and shovel out language that's added and sour, and beg, in the tongues of the Choctaws and Hindoes, that silence may reign till a civilized hour. In vain is their pleading; the mowers go clanking the mowers go clanking their cogwheels and cans, and many good people are driven to drinking, and finally die of the Jimel Jams. There should be a jail for such slumber destroyers, a dark, mouldy dungeon, disgusting and stale, and also a cell for the coin hungry lawyers who fain would defend them or see they get bail. But law doesn't cover such grievous offenses, and people must suffer till this life is gone, they still must be driven clean out of their senses, by bores who go mowing an hour before dawn.

Nearly every man practices cannibalism to the extent of eating a little mutton.

Eph Wiley has six daughters and they are marrying at the rate of about one a year. Yesterday an old friend approached Eph on the subject of a little loan. MOST IMPORTANT

FARM PRODUCTS.

What is the most important product of Ohio farms? Is it corn? Or is it live stock? The authorities at the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, think that neither of them is the leading crop. They are convinced that another product of the farm is more important and are now arranging to give it their attention. This most important product of the farm is nothing less than the young men and women who grow up there. To surround these young people with the best conditions both morally and socially is the aim of certain men and women in each community. Dr. W. O. Thompson, President of the University, invites these rural leaders from all over the state to come together at Columbus and discuss their common problems. The sessions will be held at the Ohio State University from August 10 to 14 and will be called "Country Life Week." In addition to the round table discussions there will be several addresses each day by men of state and national prominence. A feature will be reports of definite community betterment. The reports will be made by ministers and laymen who have participated in the incidents which they relate.

OHIO SURPASSES PARIS.

That the Ohio State University is superior in many ways to the University of Paris is affirmed by Joseph L. Heffernan, a former Ohio man, in an article which appeared in a recent number of Leslie's Magazine.

Mr. Heffernan, who was a special student at Ohio State last year, is now in Paris, where he has made an extensive study of the University of Paris, which he has compared to the Ohio school, much to the latter's advantage.

Street Stories

They were talking at Collins' drug store "joshing" one another in a friendly way, among the number being a well known minister. Suddenly one of the party laughingly criticized the pastor for having officiated at the funeral of a man whose life had been not exactly what it should have been when the clergyman replied: "I can't see why I'm to blame for officiating at a function which every one of you has been hoping for years would take place."

A well known man was passing along the street the other day and noticed that a pad lock that had been placed upon the door by the sheriff had been removed and there was evidence of activity inside the store. "Are they taking an inventory?" he inquired of a colored man who stood near the entrance.

No, sah, not as I knows of," was the rejoinder. "They're just figurin' up about what they got in the store."

They say that Hon. W. D. Fulton has not recovered that dollar he loaned recently to a "fellow member of the legislature," but Mr. Fulton still insists that his experience was "well worth the price and he doesn't seem to mind the loss a little bit."

Hon. W. A. Ashbrook some time ago promised to give the Johnstown Knights of Pythias $5000 towards their building fund provided the lodge would increase its membership 500 within a given time. The story given to the Cleveland Plain Dealer says that the lodge got 498 members after diligent effort and then seemed to run out of material. Then they found that Congressman Ashbrook had two nephews who were not quite of age. They got a special dispensation to admit the boys, thus making the required 500. Mr. Ashbrook has been advised of this achievement with a polite and dignified request to send the promised $5,000. Plans for the building are ready.

NEW PLANT FOR DIXIE-HOCKING
By leaps and bounds Dixie-Hocking has gained in popularity until the Dixie Coal Company has made arrangements for building a large plant in North Newark to care for the growing business in that section of the city.

The new plant will be modern in every respect and will be adequate to handle a great tonnage.

During the coming fall and winter the Dixie Coal company will handle Dixie-Hocking, the prize bituminous coal, the best grade of Pocahontas furnace coal, and a superior grade of anthracite. The delivery facilities of the company will be improved and every effort will be made by the management to serve the needs of its customers promptly and satisfactorily.

Dixie-Hocking which is the headliner of the Dixie-Coal company is probably the most carefully prepared coal that comes into the city. The Dixie Coal company lays special emphasis on the fact that every ton of coal coming from its yards is free from slate, dirt and impurities.

The Dixie-Hocking solves the heating question which gave you so much trouble last winter. The users of this coal can see winter coming without looking forward to several months of discomfort and even suffering, for with Dixie-Hocking in the cellar zero weather need bring no fear.

Dixie-Hocking is good, coal—it's clean coal—it's hot coal. Many who gave it a trial last winter have placed orders with the company controlling it to fill their cellars during the present summer.

Fish dealers solemnly announce that this is a backward season for crabs.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Granmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and lustre—Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advanced age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. 1032 LOST while working to help the passengers escape.

Laurence Irving, another actor and son of Sir Henry Irving, according to survivors, died while trying to save his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Irving were last seen on deck, embracing one another as if in farewell. They went down with the ship locked in each others arms.

Commissioner Rees of the Salvation Army stood on the deck of the doomed vessel trying to persuade the people to keep cool and lending a helping hand to many. When the ship was almost under water one of his men shouted to him to jump for his life. He replied he would stand by his wife and children and sank with the words: "O God, thy will be done" on his lips.

One of the touching sights on the survivors' train, was that presented by Philip Lawler with his wife and son he had left his home in Brantford, Ont., where they had lived for the last seven years, to visit their old home in Keighly, Yorkshire, England. The mother went down with the ship while the father, after a desperate struggle, managed to save his son Herbert and himself. He was injured when the explosion occurred and with his head swathed in bandages, and bowed with grief, he sat a disconsolate figure at his son's side. The boy, who is 17 years old, when asked about the wreck said:

"I was awakened by shouts and water rushing into the third class quarters. I jumped up, dressed and took a life belt."

"Mother is gone for in the rush which occurred after the plunge father was swimming beside me. He helped me to reach a spar, to which we both clung until rescued by a boat."

Only 22 women and two children of the many who boarded the steamer at Montreal and Quebec appeared to have been saved.

One little girl, Helen O'Hara, swam until she was picked up as also did Miss Thompson from New Zealand. One woman, Mrs. Greenway, a bride of a week, was separated from her husband and thought she had lost him but the two had a happy reunion later at Rimouski.

Probably the chief cause of confusion on the steamer after the impact was the fact that the water, reaching into the engine room and flooding the dynamos, threw the ship into complete darkness. The struggles of the terrified passengers to escape can be imagined.

One of the first steps taken at Rimouski this morning was the establishment of a regular beach patrol to prevent looting by beach combers. A number of special officers were sworn in for this purpose. There were still several hundred bodies to be recovered from the waters of the St. Lawrence.

The Storstad left for Montreal with the wrecking steamer Strathcona shortly after 5 o'clock, presumably after receiving orders to that effect. She is making slow progress owing to the damaged condition of her bows.

M. D. A. Darling, a survivor here was saved by a life belt that might have saved Sir Henry Seton Karr.

"My cabin was opposite Sir Henry's," said Darling today, "and when I opened my door we bumped into each other in the passageway. He had a life belt and he offered it to me. I refused it but he said 'a man, take it and I will get another.' I told him to save himself but he got angry and actually forced the belt over me. He then hurried me along the corridor to the door. Apparently he went back for another belt but a moment or two after he had left me the ship went down. I was picked up."

600 DEAD ARE TAKEN TO QUEBEC

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rimouski, May 30.—The government boat Lady Evelyn laden with more than 600 dead from the steamship Empress of Ireland steamed away from Rimouski today for Quebec, where, in an improvised morgue the victims of the disaster will await identification. Captain Kendall of the Empress, still crushed by what has occurred, was a little better this morning. He still suffers from injuries sustained but has not contracted pneumonia as was reported. To friends with whom he has talked, he lamented bitterly the failure of the collier Storstad to hold her bow in the rent she had opened in the liner's side. It appears that it was misty but not actually foggy when the crash occurred. The Empress had passed Rimouski at 1:30 a. m. and was on her course. Captain Kendall was on the bridge and ordered the ship slowed down. Then he made out the lights of an approaching steamer. He whistled and the steamer answered, indicating that the signal had been understood. The vessels were far apart when these signals were exchanged. As they came nearer the Empress' engines came to a full stop but she drifted under her momentum. Then Captain Kendall, it is said, ordered "slow astern." The Storstad kept on her way towards the liner. One theory expressed is that Captain Anderson of the Storstad tried to cross the bow of the liner and she plunged into her just as the liner was about to stop. "It was not a severe shock but the wound inflicted was at the spot where the double hull and bulkheads were of no avail."

IRVING DIED IN ENDEAVOR TO SAVE WIFE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Quebec, May 30.—F. E. Abbott, Toronto, told the story of how Laurence Irving died trying to save his wife. Abbott was the last man to see Mr. Irving alive. "I met him first in the passageway," he said, "calmly, is the boat going down?" I said it looked like it. "Dearie," Irving then said to his wife, "hurry. There is no time to lose."

"Mrs. Irving began to cry and as the actor reached for a lifebelt, the boat suddenly lurched and he was thrown against the door of his cabin. His face was bloody and Mrs. Irving became frantic."

"Keep cool," he warned her, but she persisted in holding her arms around him. He forced the lifebelt over her and pushed her out of the door. He then practically carried her upstairs. I asked if I could help and Irving said 'look after yourself first, old man, but God bless you all the same.'"

"Abbott said he left the two, man and wife, struggling. Abbott got on deck and dived overboard. He caught hold of a piece of timber and then looked around. Irving by this time was on the deck. He was kissing his wife. As the ship went down they were both clasped in each others arms."

RELIEF FUND FOR WIDOWS AND ORPHANS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, May 30.—The British public which went home last night, believing that the greater part of the passengers on board the Empress of Ireland had survived the disaster in the St. Lawrence was shocked this morning to learn that the loss of life exceeded 1,000 and that many of the victims were from the United Kingdom. King George early in the morning sent a messenger to the European manager of the Canadian Pacific railway expressing his sympathy.

The lord mayor of London upon learning of the extent of the disaster, decided to open a fund to award relief to the widows and orphans of the passengers and crew who had been lost.

Great crowds besieged the London and Liverpool offices of the company and anxiously scanned the lists of the rescued. There were many pitiable scenes when women and men who had awaited throughout the night in the hope of hearing that friends and relatives were safe could not find their names on the lists and turned away in despair only to return when further bulletins were posted.

KING CABLES HIS SYMPATHY TO CANADIANS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, May 30.—King George today cabled to the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada:

"I am deeply grieved over the awful disaster to the Empress of Ireland in which so many Canadians lost their lives. Queen Mary and I both assure you of our heartfelt sympathy for those who mourn for the loss of relatives and friends."

To Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, His Majesty cabled:

"In the appalling disaster which has befallen your company by the loss of the Empress of Ireland in which so many perished, I offer you my sincere sympathy."

LOCUSTS HAVE ARRIVED AT THE COLLEGE TOWN

The village of Granville was one of the first localities in the state to receive the visitation from the 17-year locusts, millions of these insects swooping into the village Thursday. The beautiful trees of the village are filled with the pests and their incessant noise sounds like the humming of an electric fan. But little is being done to prevent damage by the locusts.

Reports from other parts of Licking county tell of the arrival of these strange, destructive insects but the city of Newark has been remarkably free from them. Only a few have been seen in the city proper, though they are to be found in large numbers on the northern boundaries, particularly in the vicinity of the waterworks.

AN ELECTRICAL DEMONSTRATION IN THE ARCADE

Beginning with Monday next, there will be an electrical demonstration given in the room in the Arcade next to the Western Union Telegraph company. This is being promoted and given by the Electrical Demonstrators and Sales company, which is a manufacturers' agent.

The company is really co-operative and a showing will be given of various electrical equipments sold by the merchants of the city. The company does not sell any merchandise, only through the local dealer.

The demonstration will be in charge of Sherman P. Congdon, formerly of Chicago, but now located here, and will be held every afternoon and evening for two weeks.

NATIONAL CAPITAL PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE SOLDIER DEAD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, May 30.—The national capital today paid its annual tribute of flowers and eulogy to the nation's soldier dead. Official and practically all private business was suspended and ceremonies benefiting the day were held here. Congress had adjourned for the occasion and various executive departments of the government were closed.

The principal exercises of the day were held at Arlington National Cemetery, the burial ground for many thousands of the country's patriots. There on Virginia's historic slopes overlooking the Potomac, several thousand persons gathered to honor the memory of those who had died in the service of the country. Thousands of garlands of flowers were strewn upon the graves of the soldier dead and tributes to their memory were paid by prominent speakers.

While the ceremony at Arlington was the feature of memorial day here, exercises were held at the various cemeteries where lie many of the soldier dead.

SALVATION ARMY DELEGATES START FOR CONVENTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, May 30.—At Salvation Army headquarters here 700 delegates from all parts of the United States assembled to sail today aboard the Olympic to attend the international convention in London, held an almost continuous prayer service last night for their comrades who perished in the Empress of Ireland disaster.

Messages received by Commander Eva Booth from Lieut. Gov. J. M. Gibson of the province of Ontario confirmed reports that few of the Canadian delegates aboard the Empress, probably not more than 20, were rescued.

Commander Booth was overcome when she heard the news of the disaster. She said the loss of Commander Rees left the Army in Canada without a head and added that most of those who had perished belonged to the preaching staff.

OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY IN NEW YORK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, May 30.—The most impressive features of the observance of Memorial day in New York City include military parades in Manhattan and Brooklyn and memorial in Carnegie Hall tonight at which Mayor John Purroy Mitchell will preside. Only about 700 veterans of the civil war were to march in the Manhattan parade at the head of three thousand national guards, three thousand Spanish-American war veterans and 2,000 boy scouts. The battleship Tennessee was to fire the national salute off the soldiers and sailors monument and Grant's tomb.
